GOING NORTH

Escape to the North Coast for a memorable holiday where you'll be spoilt for choice – but the memories will last a lifetime.

Back in 1954, when the quaint town of Ballito was established, potential investors to the North Coast could buy a piece of land for R790. Ten years later, a brochure marketing Ballito was put out to attract holidaymakers to invest in the area. The slogan: Buy, Build & Play at Ballito Bay, The Caribbean of the North Coast – Natal.

Fast forward to 2023, and these words could not be more accurate. Ballito is not only the gateway to this north coast region but also a thriving community, a beautiful coastal town with a laid-back atmosphere, where life is not frantic, where the refreshing waters and views of the warm and majestic Indian Ocean soothe your very soul.

Nicknamed the Dolphin Coast because of the many sightings of dolphins along this stretch of shore, Ballito and the North Coast offer everything tourists to the area need to make their stay an unforgettable one.

Chill at the beach, fish, surf, cycle, run or explore the wildlife – with plenty of rock pools and picturesque settings, the outdoors is relaxing and inviting.

If you're a night owl and prefer evening entertainment, there's a host of fine dining restaurants, live entertainment and vibrant nightlife to entertain you. With both long-established and brand-new restaurants dotted along the coastline, there's plenty to keep your palate alive. You'll be spoilt for choice if you want to hit the shops, and if you need accommodation, there's everything from caravan parks to five-star hotels to tempt you.

The destinations on the North Coast offer business travellers exceptional conference venues; with world-class golf courses and amenities. Wedding venues are also trendy and top-rated – catering for those wanting a beach wedding to an exquisite fairy-tale setting.

The North Coast's rich history – including King Shaka and Chief Albert Luthuli – gives visitors a wonderful mix of diverse cultures and vibrant people who have become friendly locals.

Further north is one of South Africa's impressive World Heritage Sites – the iSimangaliso Wetland Park, and a short drive away are the sites where Boer, British, and Zulu military forces once battled.

To the south, Durban is nearby with its spectacular uShaka Marine World and iconic Moses Mabhida Stadium. In uMhlanga, The Gateway Theatre of Shopping is worth visiting, and views from The Arch of the coastline are stunning.

Crashing waves, lush forests, sunny skies, attractions galore, food to drool over – what more could you ask for in a perfect holiday?

BLYTHEDALE

Blythedale is a small residential area perfect for a quiet, relaxing holiday along the shore.

KWADUKUZA

MAPHUMULO

Maphumulo is rich in birdlife, scenic landscapes and Iron Age sites where spears and artifacts were discovered. Maphumulo's KwaShuShu Hot Springs is a natural hot spring that emanates from the ground into an island in the middle of the Tugela River between Nkandla and Ntunjambili (Kranskop).

MANDENI

Mandeni is known for the Ultimatum Tree – the site where the British Government gave an ultimatum to the Zulu nation that resulted in the Anglo-Zulu War. Mandeni is now a charming residential area with ample accommodation options and a large industrial area called Isithebe Industrial Estate.

HONOURING OUR LEGENDS

Fallen Zulu warriors, epic battles, colonial settlers and indentured labourers are just the beginning of the North Coast's tumultuous history. Our people will forever honour the legends who have made the North Coast the cultural haven it is today.

THE MIGHTY KING SHAKA

King Shaka, one of the most outstanding military leaders, founded the town of KwaDukuza almost 200 years ago and became the well-respected ruler of the land. Uniting the diverse Zulu nation was one of King Shaka's greatest triumphs. His brothers killed King Shaka on 24 September 1828, now commemorated each year in KwaDukuza as King Shaka Day. The King Shaka Visitors Centre in KwaDukuza served as a memorial and was erected on the site of King Shaka's grave in 1932. Beside the memorial is the rock that is believed to have been the one he sat on when he was assassinated.

THE WAR OF THE PRINCES

King Shaka's death sparked a violent battle for the Zulu throne that lasted several decades. The battle between King Shaka's nephews plunged the Zulu Kingdom into a civil war that killed 6 000 warriors, the highest number of fatalities of any warfare in South Africa. The site of the most brutal battle, eNdongakusuka, now exists peacefully on the banks of the Tugela River beneath waving fields of sugarcane.

MAHATMA GANDHI

Gandhi was instrumental in the struggle against the apartheid regime and proclaimed that the destiny of the Indian community living on the North Coast was intertwined with the battle of the oppressed Zulu people. Together, the Zulu and Indian populations fought against the apartheid government.

THE ANGLO-ZULU WAR

King Cetshwayo won the battle and ruled over the Zulu people only to fight another war, this time defending his people against the British settlers in 1879. Two battles of the Anglo-Zulu War were fought on the North Coast, including the battle of Gingindlovu on 2 April 1879, when the British Army used machine guns for the first time in history. The British forces won the war and took over the land for farming sugarcane – which led to Indian people being brought in as indentured labourers to work the fields.

CHIEF ALBERT LUTHULI

Born in Groutville and growing up on a mission station near KwaDukuza, Chief Albert Luthuli was given the title of Chief in 1935, succeeding his late uncle. Luthuli became president of the African National Congress in 1952 and drew on his Christian faith and his status as an African chief to oppose the unjust apartheid system by identifying with and speaking on behalf of South Africans. His heroism was recognised internationally when – in 1961 – he became the first African Nobel Peace Prize winner.
